

Fat Chicken

There was once a fattie chicken that was so greedy that she always stole all of the other chicken's food. Lazily she lived on a free range chicken farm in Summerhill. She was not strong but she was huge!

Every day when the chickens got fed, the fat chicken ate all the food, before any other chicken could try to eat any of it.

As December came, the huge chicken was getting more and more food and she was getting bigger and bigger. Soon she found it hard to walk because she was so fat.

On Christmas morning the fat chicken was nowhere to be seen in the farmyard. But everyone could smell the aroma of a wonderful roast dinner cooking in the kitchen!

Moral... Don't be greedy or disaster might strike.
